DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 35-54 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claims 35-36, it is unclear if the cross-sectional area of the pore walls adjoin the surface of the substrate recited in claim 35 is the same as the wall section surfaces at the surface of the substrate recited in claim 36. It appears that the scope of the claim 35 is the same as the scope of the claim 36.

In claim 45, it is unclear if the turbine component is part of the structure of the claimed layer system. In other words, it is unclear if the layer system comprises the turbine component.

In claim 47, it is unclear if the foreign particles in a medium are part of the structure of the claimed layer system. In other words, it is unclear if the layer system comprises the medium having the foreign particles.

In claim 48, line 8, it is unclear if the porous layer has a plurality of layers.

In claim 53, line 8, it is unclear if the porous layer and the substrate are in one layer.

Double Patenting

2. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the “right to exclude” granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 35-39 and 42-47 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-9 of U.S. Patent No.

7,402,335. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because claims 1-9 in the US patent recite a layered structure comprising a substrate and a porous layer arranged on the substrate with an outer surface spaced away from the substrate, and having a plurality of pores formed therein with each pore defined by a wall the porous layer characterized by sizes of the pores decreasing as the layer extends toward the outer surface, which would result the pore walls adjoined the surface of the substrate have a larger cross-sectional area than the pore walls which do not adjoin the surface of the substrate and an improved mechanical bonding of the pore walls to the substrate.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 48-54 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action.

Claims 40-41 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
